CANTERBURY CRICKET

Canterbury Cricket Association Inc.

26 November 2009

To whom it may concern,

The Canterbury Wizards were lucky enough to begin their 2009/2010 domestic cricket campaign with a two day camp at Terrace Downs. With a mixed team including new and returning players the team management and I stressed the importance of staying together to help gel as a squad before the season got under way- an important requirement that the team at Terrace Downs more than came to the party on to support us.

The facilities at Terrace Downs are outstanding and for a group of men who spend the best part of six months each year on the road in hotels we have become quite the connoisseurs of what quality accommodation is and Terrace Downs exceeded what we were expecting in every way.

We called a number of the Villas behind the clubhouse home for those two days and I cannot express how wonderful these suites were. With three bedrooms and a large separate living area with full kitchen in each villa the boys were able to relax after the days training and soak up the exquisite views on offer from their balconies. Away from the villas the team had two different but equally wonderful dining experiences in the clubhouse. The first night was an ala carte meal in the main dining room which the Terrace Downs team prepared to our specific dietary and nutritional requirements, the second, a much more relaxed evening on the deck of the clubhouse with pizzas in the outdoor stone oven.

Over and above the fantastic dining and accommodation facilities we made use of the board room facilities in which all the technological requirements necessary are available and the lower field for fielding practice. This field is not specific to any sporting code but boasts huge potential as a setting for a cricket oval if that was the path Terrace Downs would eventually like to take.

In addition to all the excellent facilities and staff, Terrace Downs even managed to dump a bit of snow on the ground on our last day for our South African team members who had never seen it before- so for that they thank you!

I would recommend to any sporting organization the set up at Terrace Downs. They provide excellent facilities and tailor all their services to the individual requirements of the team. With the ability to offer not only top quality catering and accommodation but also practice facilities you can achieve a proper 'team camp' atmosphere away from the distractions of everyday life. I would also like to extend my sincere thanks, on behalf of the Canterbury Wizards team and management, to Jonny, Catherine and the team at Terrace Downs for everything they did for us and putting us in such good stead for the remainder of our season.

With thanks and kindest regards,

Bob Carter
